The Traveler.

His wound was raw and deep and wide,
For which there seemed no cure revealed;
For which no art a balm supplied;
But lo, time healed.

His cross was heavy, taxing sore
The shoulders that must faint submit;
But as the load he onward bore,
Love lightened it.

His feet were weary with the way
That over steep, through quagmires,
led;
And as he grew from day to day,
Faith comforted.

The crowd pressed by, so slow his pace;
He saw the others, flecter, first;
Not his the prize? With shining face
Death all reversed.

Burnett—Bargamin.

The wedding of Miss Emma Therese Bargamin, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Y. Bargamin, to Mr. Charles Ryland Burnett, was celebrated at 6 P. M. yesterday, in Grace Episcopal Church, the Rev. Landon R. Mason being the celebrant.

The bride party, in entering the church, were preceded by the ribbon holders, Mary Katherine Cary and Master Holland Randolph Ellis. Miss Ida Ethel Bargamin was maid of honor. She wore white and carried American Beauty roses, as did the ribbon holders. The bride was given away by her father. She was gowned in a blue traveling costume. Her flowers were a shower of lilies of the valley. She was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. William Duke.

The groomsmen were Mr. Charles Bargamin, Mr. Henry Hotchkiss, Mr. Woodson Vadday and Mr. Frank Norvell. Mr. and Mrs. Burnett left last evening for an extended bridal trip. They will return to make their home in Richmond, where they have always lived, and where they are regarded with the highest esteem and affection.

Davis—Hooper.

In the home of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hooper, No. 400 South Cherry Street, one of the prettiest of October weddings was witnessed at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the marriage of Miss Berkeley O. Hooper to Mr. James A. Davis, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. J. B. O'Reilly.

The house was beautifully decorated with palms and chrysanthemums. The bride, wearing a tailored suit of brown, with brown hat and gloves, came in with her maid of honor, Miss Sophie B. Hooper, who wore white point d'esprit over white tulle. Both the bride and maid of honor carried white chrysanthemums. They were met by the groom at the altar, with his best man and brother, Mr. Melvin J. Davis.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Davis left for a Northern tour. After November 15th they will reside at No. 209 North Sycamore Street. Valuable wedding gifts included beautiful and useful articles in silver, cut glass, bric-a-brac and furniture. The bride, who is of the blonde type of beauty, is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hooper. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Davis, and is connected in business with Strause Brothers and Company.

Bowers—Steel.

The wedding of Miss Mary Louise Steel, the daughter of Dr. George B. Steel, to Mr. James Baker Bowers was quietly celebrated at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday evening in the home of her father, No. 400 East Main Street.

The Rev. Dr. W. R. L. Smith, of the Second Baptist Church, and the Rev. Charles A. Marks, of the First English Evangelical Lutheran Church, officiated.

Palms and white chrysanthemums carried out the color scheme in the parlors and hall. In the dining room everything was pink, silver, candelabra holding pink wax tapers and pink carnations, making a charming centerpiece for the table. The wedding march was played by Professor Reinhardt.

Miss Mabel Steel, the bride's sister, was maid of honor and Mr. Edgar Bowers the best man. Mr. Marion Wilson, of Fredericksburg, and Mr. Gamble Bowers were the ushers.

The bride entered with her father, who gave her away. There were two wedding rings—one from the groom to the bride, the second from the bride to the groom, whose mother was also wedded with the double ring ceremony. The bride was gowned in white crepe de chine over white silk. Her ornaments were pearls and her veil was held with a wreath of orange blossoms, which had graced the head of the groom's mother on her bridal day. She carried a shower of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore white chrysanthemums.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowers left by the 11 o'clock train last night for Asheville, N. C. When they return on November 4th, they will be at home at No. 490 East Main Street.

The bride is a beautiful girl, most favorably identified with Richmond society. The groom holds a prominent position with the Owens & Minor Drug Company. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr.

The Dawn of Peace.

By JOHN RUSKIN.

John Ruskin was born in London, Feb. 8, 1819, and died Jan. 20, 1900. He was the son of a wealthy Scotch wine merchant. He took his degree from Oxford in 1842. He studied painting and architecture. He is best known by his treatises on painting and architecture. An early volume of his poems printed for private circulation was in 1851, reprinted with additional pieces and illustrations from the author's drawings.

PUT off, put off your mail, O kings,
And beat your brands to dust!
Your hands must learn a surer grasp,
Your hearts a better trust.

Oh, bend aback the lance's point,
And break the helmet bar;
A noise is in the morning wind,
But not the note of war.

Upon the grassy mountain paths
The glittering hosts increase—
They come! They come! How fair their feet,
They come who publish peace.

And victory, fair victory,
Our enemies are ours!
For all the clouds are clasped in light,
And all the earth with flowers.

Aye, still depressed and dim with dew,
But wait a little while,
And with the deathless radiant rose
The wilderness shall smile.

And every tender, living thing
Shall feed by streams of rest;
Nor lamb shall from the flock be lost,
Nor nursing from the nest.

Miss Mary Hart Fox, niece of the bride, acted as maid of honor, and Mr. S. R. Gault as best man. The parlors were tastefully decorated in autumn leaves and chrysanthemums and illuminated with soft colored lights.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of white point d'esprit, trimmed in handsome lace of grape design, draped with chiffon roses.

A necklace of pearls was her only ornament. After the wedding, the couple returned to Washington, D. C., where they will reside, and where they will be at home to their friends after the 15th of November, at No. 203 G Street, Northwest. Mr. and Mrs. Ennis were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. Among these was a case containing nearly every article of silver used upon a dining table and of exquisite design. This was given by friends of the groom, employed in the Navy Department.

WORK OF VA. SYNOD

One Day of Next Year's Session Set Aside for Sunday School Work.

MISSIONARY TO CHINA

Makes an Interesting Address and Is Gladly Heard by All.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

MARTINSBURG, W. VA., Oct. 25.—The Presbyterian Synod of Virginia began its fifth days' session to-day with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. A. S. Venable.

Rev. J. C. Snedecor, secretary of colored evangelization, made a strong address on his work. This was his first appearance before this synod and he made a fine impression.

Rev. H. H. Swetts, secretary of ministerial education and relief, presented the work committed to his care. He also announced the work of the synod for the first time and was heard with much pleasure.

These two secretaries convinced the synod that they are the right men in the right places.

Rev. S. S. Laws, D. D., offered an overture on the subject of polygamy in connection with the synod. Church in heathen lands. This was referred to a committee of which Rev. T. Brooke, D. D., is chairman, to report to the next meeting of the synod.

For Sunday Schools.

It was decided that the afternoon of the second day of next year's session shall be given to a meeting in the interest of Sunday schools to be arranged for by Secretaries Magill and Phillips.

The narrative of the state of religion adopted to be sent to the General Assembly, shows the churches to be in an encouraging and prosperous condition.

Rev. G. W. Palmer, a missionary to China, made a most interesting and instructive address on the state of affairs in the East. He emphasized the need of sending more missionaries just now as the whole East is now passing through a crisis.

Last night Rev. W. W. Moore, D. D., of Union Theological Seminary, at the request of the synod, delivered a most able and scholarly address on the prophet Isaiah. He was heartily thanked for his address and asked to furnish a copy to the Committee of Publication for publication in pamphlet form.

A sermon by Rev. Ernest Thompson, D. D., of Charleston, W. Va., closed the session of the synod.

DR. GALLOWAY WILL PURSUE INVESTIGATION

(By Associated Press.)

HOUSTON, TEXAS, October 25.—Dr. B. T. Galloway has received a telegram from the Agricultural Department, at Washington, asking if it were true that he had given out an interview, stating that the Gaulemian ants were a failure as soil-weevil enemies. Dr. Galloway promptly answered that the interview was not true; that Collins and Goll would go to Guatemala as originally intended and further study the ants in their native habitat. Dr. Galloway has just returned from Victoria, where he looked after the ants, and expressed himself as satisfied with the work now being done with them by Dr. Wablor and Dr. Hunter.

"May, let us have another song." "Here is Arnold of Sowley who will trol a good stove as any man in the company."

"May, we have one here who is second to none," said Hawtayne, laying his hand upon his John's shoulder. "I have heard him on the cog with a voice like the wave upon the shore, and I pray you, friend, to give us 'The Bell of Milton,' or, if you will, 'The Franklin's Maid.'"
